Pre-registration for break-out sessions:

Break-out sessions include a seasoned diplomatic practitioner and an historian. This is a unique opportunity for students and participants to interact with scholars and leaders in the field, to ask questions, share ideas and help advance a better understanding of diplomacy.

Please indicate the three sessions in which you would like to participate:

_____ Citizen Diplomats Respond: This session will discuss how citizen-based organizations can help stabilize a country and achieve larger U.S. policy goals.

_____ The Power of the Purse: This session will explore how individual purchase choices impact the globe, and how citizen-based organizations can contribute to responsible business development and sustainability.

_____ Beyond Culture Shock: This session will explore how personal assumptions of another culture affect one's ability to build bridges of understanding.

_____ Building a Virtual Bridge: This session will discuss how the internet can be a tool of diplomacy, invite citizen participation and constructively motivate citizens.

_____ The Marshall Plan and the Citizen Diplomat Influence Simulation: Take on the role of the American public and learn how they influenced the passage of the European Recovery Plan.

_____ Crisis in Darfur: Negotiating a Solution Simulation: Test your diplomatic skills and take on the role of diplomat while negotiating an agreement to stop genocide in Darfur.
